

Free Blankets Needed to Comfort Your Critters!?

Comfort for Critters is a nonprofit, founded in 2007, to create handmade blankets to comfort pets living in animal shelters. While the animals await adoption, we hope our blankets will provide a comfortable bed year-round. When they are adopted, we ask that their blanket is sent home with them, providing something familiar as they adjust to their “forever family.”

We happily support all animals which may end up in shelters, rescue organizations or foster-care systems, including cats, dogs, guinea pigs, rabbits, fancy rats, fennec foxes, ferrets and more! Would your organization be interested in receiving these blankets?

Our blankets are knit, crocheted, made with tied fleece and sewn. They are washable and will be in a range of sizes, but generally about 20”x20”. We currently support over 200 shelters throughout the US, and have donated over 70,000 free blankets!

You can check us out at www.ComfortForCritters.org to learn about our program, view the list of shelters we currently support, and read some of the thank you notes we’ve received. Our only requirement is that you allow the animal to take a blanket home with them, once they are adopted. If you could use these blankets, please reach out to the CFC volunteer who contacted you, or email CFC directly at the email below.
